ROMAN COLLAR: Sometimes called a clerical collar, this stiff white band is worn about the neck usually under the collar of specially designed shirts that let a square of it show in front. It is a sign of ordination, worn by priests and deacons, and also by seminarians studying for the priesthood. Ordained ministers of many of the mainline Christian churches wear this collar to indicate their ordained status in the church community.

PEACE CORNER NEWNESS

May God bless you when you are plagued by disappointment. When what might have been fades into disillusion and previously held expectations seem foolish, may God step into the breach with renewed vision and new hope. May you look to this God to lead and guide you through the mire of disenchantment and into the fresh green meadows of God's vision and God's way for you. May the God of NEWNESS bless you. Sister Maxine Shonk, OP
