Marriage, Youth & Family News

Jesus speaks of the end of the world, and offers hope for those who persevere in faith. Many people have experienced some of the difficulties that Jesus said would happen, and these things happen while time passes. This scripture points from this world (the destruction of the Temple, which was priceless to the Jews) to the next (not a historical moment, but a time of fulfillment.) We still await the day when God will come in majesty and make everything right. Luke 21:5-11 (Celebrating Sunday for Catholic Families 2016-17)

On the Way Home from Mass –The Gospel told about a huge, beautiful temple that took a hundred years to build. Can buildings last forever? What could last forever? (Celebrating Sunday's for Catholic Families 2016-17, LTP).

Guidance from our Shepherds

“The right to life is the most important and fundamental right, since life is necessary for any of the other rights to matter. There are some issues that can legitimately be debated by Christians, such as which policies are the most effective in caring for the poor, but the direct killing of innocent human life must be opposed at all times by every follower of Jesus Christ. There are no legitimate exceptions to this teaching. The health of our nation depends on a deep respect for human life from the moment of conception until natural death, and the future of our society depends on how we protect that right.” —
Archbishop Samuel Aquila of Denver

“In our country, over one million unborn children are killed by abortion every single year. All Catholics have a moral obligation to keep this human-rights catastrophe at the forefront of their minds when voting.” — Bishop John Brungardt of Dodge City, Kansas

“Life is the first right. ... God gives us the gift of freedom to choose what is true and good, and therefore it is never right for anyone to choose directly or indirectly what is intrinsically evil, especially when that choice destroys the gift of life. No one ever has a ‘right’ to exercise the gift of freedom to deprive an innocent person, especially an unborn child, of his or her right to life. As we form our consciences in this and every election, our first consideration is always where a candidate stands on the first principle: the right to life.” — Bishop Paul Loverde of Arlington, Virginia

“(O)n some issues the moral obligations of Catholics, and the demands of the common good, are abundantly clear. For example, no Catholic an vote in good conscience to expand legal protection for abortion, or to support the killing of unborn children. ...Abortion is a grave, unconscionable and intolerable evil, and we cannot support it in the voting booth .” —Bishop James Conley of Lincoln, Nebraska
