Prayers for Teens:

John's Gospel frequently uses the themes of light and dark. As this story begins the disciples - professional fishermen - have not caught anything all night. Then the Risen Jesus appears at daybreak and offers the suggestion that nets a big catch. Can you think of a time when you were really struggling or were in darkness, and then someone or something appeared and brought the light? Write in your journal or pray about how that felt. John 21:9-14 (Sunday Prayers for Teens, LTP 2015-2016)

On the Way Home from Mass - How would you feel if Jesus cooked for you? What do you think he would like us to do for others? (Celebrating Sun for Catholic Families 2015-16, LTP)

THANK YOU

Our sincere gratitude goes to all who worked so hard and put in so many hours planning and setting up to make our Holy Week and Easter liturgies so beautiful and uplifting for the many who came. These include the choir and instrumentalists, those who decorated the church both inside and outside and the Eucharistic adoration chapel, readers, servers, ushers, those who presented the holy oils, those who had their feet washed, those who prepared our RCIA candidates for baptism or full reception into the Church and the reception after the Easter Vigil. As you can see there is a lot of work that goes into preparing these special liturgies that celebrate the most important events on our Church calendar.

MORE THANKS YOU

A belated but no less heartfelt thank you goes to those who provided the scrumptious feast day supper for St. Patrick’s Day, those who cooked and served it, especially Harold and Judy Cooper for their secret corned beef and cabbage. And finally, a special thank you to K.C. Steggeman for providing the winch to make it easier and safer to lift the decorations in the sanctuary of church.

EASTER TIME

If we were to pick the pivotal moment of our liturgical year, its very center, it would be Jesus’ Resurrection, Easter. It is for us both an ending and a beginning. As Alexander Schmemmann noted, “We are always living after Easter, and we are always going toward Easter.” A wonderful quote attributed to St. Augustine evokes the spirit in which this Easter journey is lived by those who have seen the Risen Lord: “We are an Easter People, and Alleluia is our song!” During Easter, we stand vindicated by the victory of the Resurrection. Death and sin are no more; darkness and suffering have not had the final word. The Resurrection is now! Alleluia! Praise God! The joy of knowing Jesus Christ calls us to witness to his Resurrection. Like the disciples who were his companions in life, we are propelled forward into the world as we realize the magnitude of what he has done and have his Spirit breathed out upon us anew.
